Wednesday was one of those charming days which made one in haste to forget that winter ever had existed. The soft balmy air, just beginning to be impregnated with the odor of flowers, or infused with the indescribable, almost imperceptible breath of spring, drew the ladies out in large numbers, themselves anticinating by the brilliancy of the costumes, the glories of the spring which have been so long retarded by the lingering of winter.

AN IMPORTANT OPINION.—The following opinion of the Supreme Court, rendered at the late session of that court, will be found of much interest to a large number of our readers in the Western portion of the State:

Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad Company vs. Commis sioners of Caldwell County.

Our opinion as to the meaning of section 7, of article 7, of the State Constitution, relieves us from the necessity of considering any of the other questions which were ably and learnedly discussed by counsel. That section is in these words:

Section is in these words:
Sec. 7. No county, city, town or other municipal corporation, shall contract any debt, pledge its faith, or loan its credit, nor shall any tax be levied or collected, by any officers of the same, except for the necessary expenses thereof, unless by a vote of a majority of the analysis of vote of a majority of the qualified voters therein.

It is contended for the plaintiffs that these words mean a majority of the qualified voters therein, who ac-tually vote at the election upon the question.

We do not concur in this construc-

1st. It is not the natural meaning of the words used, but requires an addition of words to qualify and limit the generality of the expression. If the words used are so ambiguous as to be unintelligible without some addition, (as were the words prescribing the tenure of a judge appointed to fill a vacancy, commented on by the Chief Justice, in the case of Cloud vs. Wilson ante,) such addition must be made as may be found proper on a conside-ration of the context, and of all other circumstances bearing on it. But to add limiting or qualifying words, is not in general permissible, or except for very strong reasons, when the words used contain an intelligible description of the object. The word "therein" is important. It means "in the county," and the phrase may then be read as "a majority of the qualified voters of the county." 2. To this construction it is objected that the number of qualified voters cannot be certainly ascertained except by a census, or registration, immediately preceding an election. The Constitution (Art. VI, s. 2,) directs the General Assembly to provide for a registration of voters from time to time; and it has accordingly provided for a registration just before each general election. It must have been such a registration that was in the view of the framers of the section under discussion, as the means of de-termining the number of qualified voters in a county. It would not be precisely accurate for any period after the election in view of which it was taken, but it would be sufficiently so, for practical purposes. 3. The question to be determined in this case differs in several material respects from that in Reiger missioners of Beaufort, 70 N. C. 319. The act which gave the defendants in that case power to contract the debt on the result of an election, evidently assumed that but for such act they had not the power. It was intended to be an enabling act. clause in the Constitution which we are now considering, assumes that municipalities might contract, if not prohibited. It is a disabling act, and must be reasonably (I do not say liberally) construed to suppress the grievance. What was the grievance Many counties and towns, as is well known, had contracted debts, the interest of which, under the changed circumstances, could only be met by oppressive taxation, and in consequence of that, the value of immovable property in such places was reduced. Under the construction contended for by the plaintiffs the section in question would be an in-adequate remedy. In all or most in-stances of county debts by subscrip-tions to railroad stocks, they had been submitted to the people of the county, and approved by a majority of those voting. Experience demon strated that an active few interested in procuring the subscription could nearly always succeed in getting a majority of the actual voters. The Constitution meant to put new re-strictions on municipalities, to in crease the difficulty of their contracting debt, and to give to the tax payers additional protection not only against the extravagance or fraud of their municipal representatives, but also against the acts of corporations, and the imprudent generosity of a minority of the voters. It meant to prohibit the contracting of a debt without the affirmative consent of a majority of the people of the county who were qualified to vote. The case of Reiger differs from the present, in a particular even more material. In that case the Commissioners declared that the requisites of the law had been complied with, and issued the town bonds, which went into the hands of innocent purchasers. In the present case the Commissioners have declared that the proposed subscription received a majority of the votes cast at the election; but they have not declared that the requisites of the Constitution have been complied with, and they have not issued the bonds. No innocent holder is in the case. The decision in Reiger's case supported by the case of Webb vs. Herne Bay Commissioners, Law Reports 5, 2, B, 642, and by numerous other cases cited in Bigelow on Estoppel 461 to 468. These cases illustrate the just distinction between cases in which a corporation is required to issue bonds ultra vires, and where it has issued the bonds which have come into the hands of an innocent purchaser. In the latter class of cases, the corporation is estopped to deny the regularity of the issue

Rogers vs. Burlington, 3 Wallace 4. The act of 1868-'9, chapter 3, enacts that in all special elections, pershould be allowed to vote, and the Judges holding an election are required to register all qualified persons on application. The act of 1869-'70, chapter 91, amends the above by adding to it a proviso, that in all special elections ordered by any county, the Judges shall register the names of all persons who vote, and "a ma-jority of all the votes east, so regis-tered, shall prevail for the purposes of such election."

special election, and as disqualifying any person from voting at that election who is not so special-ly registered. Whether this was the intention, seems doubtful, but we will assume that it was. We think that the act is unconstitutional. The Assembly has power, and is required to provide from time to time, for the registration of voters, and no person can vote who has not been registered,

No doubt the Assembly might require every qualified voter, even if he had been previously registered, to register over again in view of every election.

Perhaps also, it might lawfully require all voters to register over again, in view to every special election, and might declare that only those so register. istered should vote at that election. The vice of the act does not consist in this, but in declaring that a majority of the votes cast, shall prevail, thereby ignoring all those qualified voters who did not register in view of the special election, but who nevertheless are in the meaning of the theless are in the meaning of the Constitution a part of the qualified voters of the county, majority of whom must vote in favor of a debt, before it can be contracted. The Constitution defines who are the qualified voters of a county, (article VI., section 1,) and the Legislature cannot change the qualifications. Although no person can vote without Although no person can vote without registration, yet if he comes within the description contained in the section just cited, he is a qualified voter of the county, within the meaning of section 7, article VII, although he has never registered. Within the meaning of that section a qualified voter is one who is entitled to be registered as a voter, and who is qual-

registered as a voter, and who is qualified to vote upon registration. It is true that the only practicable way of ascertaining the number of the qualified voters of a county at any given time, is by a reference to the book of registration of the general election next preceding; so that practically the number of qualified voters and of voters so registered is the same. But in the idea of the Constitution the terms qualified voter and registered voter are not exactly co-extensive. The former is the mos extensive. The former's the most extensive. Section 1 of article VI, defines who are qualified voters. Section 2 disables from voting such qualified voters as fail to register. Non-registration is therefore not a disqualification, but a disability. Just as a man may be a qualified voter in overy respect though disabled from every respect, though disabled from voting by reason of sickness which prevents his getting to the polls. The act is plainly an attempt to evade the restriction which the Constitution has put on the power of counties to contract debts. It would permit a county debt to be contracted, without the consent of a majority of the qualified voters therein. In our opinion the Judge below erred in ordering the mandamus.

same time so natural in its suggestions and so striking in its merits, and when once considered it might almost lose the claim to novelty. What stronger impulse or more tenheart than the care of infirm mothers and sisters? Beyond the dutiful affection of sons or of brothers, there is no resource for these otherwise helpless beings, and observation furnishes far too often the denial of these re-sorts. Many a childless widow looks into the grave upon that arm palsied by death upon whose prop she expected to lean the weight of her declining years. Many a sister stands alone in the world unshielded by the strength of brotherly support and unsustained by the aid of brotherly

A GRIEVANCE .- Lately the passenger coach attached to the freight train on the North Carolina road has been withdrawn. The inconvenience is very great. When it is remenibered that the passenger trains proper pass but once a day each way, and that from Raleigh west in the night or the very early hours of the morning or the late hours of the evening, it will be seen at once how great the inconvenience must be. Facilities for travel beget it, and a large daily intercourse has sprung up between stations which must cease with the power to conduct it. It would seem o be a matter of interest with the railroad company to preserve this business, not to destroy it, particu-larly when it can be done without any additional cost. The proceeding eems arbitrary. It betrays an indifference to the convenience of the public which, to say the least, is short sighted. We would not be ungenerous enough to ascribe it to resentment, giving the corporation credit for some soul if not much wis-

A CIVIL RIGHTER SUMMARILY TREATED.—A few days since a "civil righter" of sable complexion and possessing muscular nerves, while trav-eling in the second class coach on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, was guilty of conduct objectionable to several gentlemen in the car. When remonstrated with, he clared that the civil rights bill had become a law, and he would do as he pleased. A prominent U.S. official in the car told him the bill could not protect him in that respect, and informed him that if he persisted he would be put off the train. Where-upon his Africanship became greatly offended and his behavior still more objectionable. The U. S. official asked the conductor to stop the train, and the official had the negro put off The counsel for the plaintiff constructhis act as requiring a new registration of every voter before the bill at his leisure. the train and left him to express themselves :

SOMETHING NICE .- Our eyes were astonished yesterday by the grateful apparition in our sanctum of a salver fairly smothered in a load of delicacies, some, the productions of nature in her warmest moods, the rich fruits of the tropics-others the dainty and tasteful productions of art—cake delicately iced, Charlotte Russe, pas try of different kinds, candles and other things much too dainty in their composition for an editor's delicta tion. THE Charlotte Observer says "Let us send our best men to the Convention." We agree with it entirely, and at the same time have no fears that such will not be the case, North Carolina, when left to her own choice, has never failed to make a wise one. The Convention of 1776 was pre-eminently able, that of 1835 was not far behind it, and the names of that of 1861 are still fresh, comprising such men as Badger, Ruffin, Edwards, Brown and Graham. All but the last named are gone, but he is left to lead the Convention of 1875 with his wisdom, and the State has not yet exhausted the "breed of noble blood."

"Let us send our best men to the Convention."

A BRILLIANT FEATURE IN THE CHARLOTTE CENTENNIAL.

We are delighted to learn from the Charlotte Observer of yesterday that General Joseph E. Johnston has consented to act as Chief Marshall for the Mecklenburg Centennial.

We congratulate our Charlotte friends upon the fitness of the selection, for if there is a man in the South capable, since the death of the beloved Lee, of drawing to him the affections and respect of the Southern people, it is Joseph E. Johnston. And he comes among them, not to rally them again to deeds of valor, but to lead them on to that great work of peace and restoration, in which to the glory of our Southern Generals, be it said, they are all engaged. They have buried the aword forever.

We hope the Northern people will be there to see what the Genlong years the choicest of their leaders, are now doing, and then they will dismiss from their minds those terrors of renewed rebellion which baunt them like shades from the battle-fields of the past.

Eighty Indiana editors were in Atlanta Tuesday, as we were informed by telegraph. This agency is the best after all for obtaining correct information of the South, dissipating the criticisms of malicious partizanship, diffusing a truthful statement of things as they are, and realizing to the Northern mind what has been so forcibly presented in the speeches of Senators Ransom and Gordon. These gentlemen of the press cannot all return in their error. There must be some among them with judgment enough to perceive, and candor enough to admit how real is the desire of the South to work in harmony with the North. They will perceive too the workings of that infernal carpetbag machinery, which, while reducing every Southern State to bankruptcy, arraying its classes against each other, and setting back, as far as was in their power, indefinitely, the day of prosperity, has at the same time succeeded in arousing the deepest suspicions of Southern loyalty and exciting the most lively apprehension of Southern treason.

We are glad to see those gentlemen behind the curtain. They are amid the scenes. They are among the actors. They will be the witnesses, they the spokesmen. If they are as candid as we trust they will be, radical capital will have received another impetus towards bankruptcy. It has flourished on misrepresentation. It tumbles to pieces before the truth.

DEATH OF DAVID DICKSON. Men are to be called great by the amount of good they do in their lives, not from the brilliancy of their deeds or of their reputations. The warrior, the statesman, the orator, of the post may strike the imagination with more vivid impression, the kip Van Winkle of the South," and certainly are characters more Gaston afterwards fixed the sobrilikely to live in song or story. It | quet upon her perhaps as long as is but another instance of the weakness or injustice of human judg- in his celebrated toast, "North Carment to prefer the showry to the olina, may she sleep on, sleep ever, substantial, and to thrust aside ere she rises up in rebellion and modest merit for mere gaudy pre- treason against her country." Again, tension. To us it seems that that the same burning love for his State. man is most truly great who applies | drew from him the impatient enquiry his talent opportunely and success- when doubt and hesitancy seized fully to retrieve the fortunes of his whole country, and to direct the energies of his people under the control of his own wisdom and experience to new fields of wealth and

The modest farmer of Georgia, David Dickson, has done more since the war to build up the South than almost any man in it. He has shown the capacity of its lands for improvement; he has shown the value of diversified industry, he has shown the efficacy of thrift and system and economy, in other words, he has shown the people of the South how to become rich out of their farms by other modes than by one gigantic, spasmodic concentration on a single specialty.

Other names may shine more brilliantly on the pages of history, but none will be inscribed upon it more worthy the reverential and grateful consideration of the human race-for he was among its true benefactors

David Dickson died at his home in Georgia, on the 16th of March. after a protracted illness.

WILLIAM GASTON.

"The memory," we are told, "of her great men is the noblest treasure of a great country ; to preserve it is an act of duty, to honor it is an act of justice, and to vindicate it is an act of virtue. But the memory of her Statesmen demands the exertion of those honorable impulses in a more vivid and vigilant degree than those of any other class of eminence."

If Badger had superior genius, Ruffin stouter grasp of the law, Miller greater eloquence and Morehead more acuteness and rugged sense, in lofty integrity, clearness of view, equinamity of temper, varied accomplishments and finished manners, none were Gaston's equal, though all were great. Neither artifice nor disguise could be detected in him. No persuasion of his friends, no threats of his enemies could shake or impede him in the path of duty. Conscience, law and the public good were his guides. No locality could bind him, no county lines fetter him, no district circumscribe him. Gaston, as he declared, was for the advancement of the State, as a State, in preference to the prosperity of any portion of it.

Daniel Webster remarks of this great man in his private correspondence, that his table talk did electrify and instruct those around him, erals who beat back for so many and would have made a book of priceless value to posterity. He had too, an exalted opinion of his talents and purity. If his best orations did not dazzle like, and show the profundity of, those of his unequaled eulogist or flow with the ease and logic of Badger, or glow with the eloquent sentences of Miller or Mangum, still they were learned, chaste, and convincing, full of truth, full of instruction, full of wisdom. A a poet he was nowhere, nevertheless his little poem, "The Old North State," will ever convince those who come after him, that he loved North Carolina with all the affection of a woman. If he possessed not the power of the real bards of arousing the soul, he succeeded in putting his whole heart in every line of his song, and it already oftener calls up the name of Gaston than any act of his long and distinguished public career. As a statesman he is nearly forgotten. As a jurist he is only remembered by the members of the bar. Notwithstanding an "exterior of remarkable distinction," and a stately form, a glance of his bonevolent, sparkling eyes would bring, with entire confidence to his arms the most timid child. As a speaker he was bold, noble and ingenious. Not that brazen indifference and coolness of some orators did he show. for frequently in rising to address a few of his friends even, he would tremble like an aspen, and this diffidence he never did entirely overcome. But when he himself was assailed, or when the honor of his State was touched, it would bring forth a manliness of character, a fearlessness of spirit that would cause even those with whom he was most intimate to marval at the intensity of the bursting flame, which had been so well suppressed. Hence, it was frequently said of Gaston, in him was the Lion and the Lamb.

Thus when Preston, of South Carolina, in the times of the Nullifiers, tauntingly alluded in a public speech in Columbia to North Carolina "as the union exert by throwing it back our Legislators, with regard to appropriations for railroads, "Are the people of this State, by some irreversible interdict of Providence, disqualified for improving their own condition," once more he pleads once more he exclaims : "Other States are aggrandizing themselves at our expense-are tapping the springs of our prosperity, and when all should be accomplished for their good, then we should be scorned and derided and taken into humble keeping." "Is the character of t'e State," he continues, "part of the property of every one of its citizens. Does his heart throb with honest joy when he hears it mentioned with respect, or do his veins tingle with vexation when it is spoken of in the tone of taunt and derision? We infinitely prefer the advancement of the State as a State to the prosperity of any portion of it. We go for North Carolina-the whole of North Carolina." Governor Brogden, do you wish to accustom our citizens, our State, to Virginia dependency? Do you look for fame in the burning of the temple? Invoke the State pride, the spirit of William Gaston, and knock the chains from our hands. which rings and monopolics on other States have put upon us. Do you admit to bear them has become a part of our nature? "to be scorned, and derided and taken into humble keeping."

Shall these be prophetic words, words uttered in the hour of despair by one of our wisest and purest citizens? Will you not rise up now, and remove the cause which is embittering section against section, which is paralizing activity, which is endargering the highway of our comnerce, and which is costing a stain on our State. Again do we invoke the spirit of William Gaston, the greatest one of North Carolina's great sons, to strengthen your arm for the protection of North Carolina and to gain for-self the plaudits of a grateful people. Governor, windicate the memory of Gaston, as well as his memory guard well his mon-

PETROLEUM IN RUSSIA .- A new industry is rapidly developing up in Russia, the obtaining of petroleum. This mineral oil is found in enor-mous quantities in the Trans-Caucasus, particularly at Baku. The abolishing of the excise on petroleum in 1872, which led to the sale of the innumercable oil springs to private persons, and to the establishment of the Badu Petroleum Company, gave an impetus to this business. In about eight months after the abrogation of the excise, near the town of Baku alone, were established as many as completed, and 2,974 cars passed over it Sunday. The river has risen but few inches in the past few days, although the snow is disappearing

The Hillsboro Recorder of yestersays: "On Thursday evening as the mail train was going up, after passing the Barracks, and the bridge known as Gordon's engineer discovered tunntely in time to prevent accit) that some evil minded misor miscreants had placed obions across the track. Upon mination it was discovered that the bridge had been torn up, and the timbers laid a ross the track in such a manner, as if the train had been inning at its usual speed, must have insured the destruction of the train and probably great loss of life. The only comment necessary is that, any one wilfully guilty of such an act, ought to be hung, and so estopped from any further mischief."

Mr. Robert Dale Owen; in spite of his humiliating experience with the Holmes family, still avows his belief in their powers of materialization. He says he knows they have the power, and that they supplement their power with fraud, but he does not know where one leaves off and the other begins. This speaks badly for the moral principles of the spirits who use the Holmeses as their "mediums." Mr. Owen gave these views to a reporter of The Rochester Democrat, after delivering a lesture in that city the other night, in which he related this astounding anecdote : "A physician on Staten Island—a most reliable man had told the speaker that in his younger days he was connected with a hospital on the bank of Lake Constance in Switzerland. One of the patients, who was subject to epileptic fits, was also a confirmed somnambulist. When under this influence, she would prophesy with perfect correctness. On ocasion she said that the next day she was to walk on the water. She was, therefore, closely watched. She arose in a somnambulistic state and, going down to a bank, walked thirty yards out on the wate from shore, and returned, stepping of of it as off of a platform."

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN. - A Wash. ington corespondent of the New Orleans Bulletin draws a charming icture of the wife of Senator Gordon

Over in the reserved gallery, there sits a sweet little lady with a thin lace vail only half hiding her pretty little face. her eyes are very brig t and soft, always lighted with a charming smile; the forehead highvehed and broad framed in with the rippling waves of soft brown hair, Always tastefully dressed, you will especially note the perfect gloving of the slender hands, and her graceful way of moving them. Every one who sees her asks who she is, and I can tell you. See, now, the gallery door opens, and Gen. Gordon comes down to claim the proud welcome of wife! The best of it is that husand and wife though they have been for many years, they are yet like lovers now; and if you want to see Mrs. Gordon's eyes beam, her cheek flush, and her lovely head ise itself with a still prouder self sertive grace, just pretend that you n't know who she is, and praise the general in her hearing.

THE EFFECT IN ARKANSAS .-- A late number of the Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette describes the effect of the nccess of the Poland resolution as planter or business man in all Arkanas could have obtained indulgence to the amount of one cent in St. Louis Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis or other city of the Nor h or West. To-day they can get all they want in any of those cities on such times as will enable them to pay. The adop-tion of the Poland report has given an impetus to everything. The Iron Mountain and the Little Rock and Fort Smith roads are while every other character of busiiness has improved. Those who have money are now willing to loan to their neighbors. Merchants are willing to accommodate planters, be cause they in turn can get accommodation, and so in everything."

celebrated contest for the possession ef the Hot Springs of Arkansas and land adjacent, which has been in controversy since 1812, was decided to-day in the United States Court of Claims against Rector, Gaines and others claiming the property, in favor of the Government, it being held that the four sections in question constitute a Government reserve under the act of 1812, and it will require another act of Congress to restore it to the public domain. The property is valued at about $4,000,000. Rector claimed under a "New Madrid" grant; Gaines and others " New nder the pre-emption laws. HORRIBLE AND FATAL ACCIDENT. -St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—On Sunday morning the house of a farmer, named Colson, at Parker's Prairie, twenty-five miles from Wa-dena, on the Northern Pacfile Railroad, took fire from the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The flames rapidly communicated to the night-clothes of the father, mother and five children. Colson dashed out of a window and was rescued. The family were all badly burned.

They all dragged themselves to the nearest neighbors, a mile distant, barefooted and naked, over the snow. Colson and two of the children have since died, and it is thought the mother and another child cannot long survive.

The Washington Capital (Don Piatt's paper) compliments the senior Senator of North Carolina in the following handsome manner: "We have some spoken literature which we have pigeon-holed for future reference and use. One is the eloquent speech of the Hon. Matt W. Ransom, Senator of North Carolina, one of the most admirable efforts in behalf of justice to the South delivered in Congress. The other is the speech of Hon. W. Walter Phelps, of New Jersey, at the Eads banquet, at St. Louis. Both these gentlemen, in their several ways, are remarkable figures on the stage of to-day, and we prophesy for them famous careers."

Mark the prediction, if the Radi-cals carry Connecticut on the 7th of April, the mask will boldly be thrown aside by Grant, and his third term conspiracy will be avowed without scruple and pushed without fear. It is to be feared that the responsibility of the contest is hardly appreciated Grant for the next Radical candidate; and the same reckless use of the purse and sword of the government to elect him, as made by his agents

GUANOS. GUANOS. OFFICE OF THOS. BRANCH & CO.,

BANKERS and COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

RICHMOND, VA., February 26th, 1875.

The Guanahani Guano Company has seen fit to publish a card to the effect that our "Cat Island Guano" is of an inferior quality to their importations, and had been rejected by them. From the reputation of the signers of that card, we presume they did not know that this statement was false. We propose to prove to the satisfaction of that Company and of the public the following facts, viz:

1st. That their agent at the Islands attempted (AND FAILED) to get control of deposits of Guano that were secured by a member of our firm who is now at the Islands.

2d. That our Cat island Guano, according to the analysis of Professor White, of the University of Georgia, (who analyzed for the Guanahani Company,) is at least the equal of the Guano is sported and sold by the Guanahani Company last spring in the cutton sections of Virginia and North Carolina.

Our Guano shall stand or fall by the cracial test of the analytical chemist, and not by cards put out on the eve of the planting season. We will have each cargo analyzed before its receives our brand, or is offered the public, and we will publish the report of the chemist. We invite the Guanahani Company to publish the analyses of each of the various lots offered er sold by them last spring, that the public may decide.

We have been enabled to avoid the mistakes that the inexperience of the Guanahani Company betrayed them into last year. We are not taxed with the enormous expenses for salaries, &c., paid by them, and with one of our firm on the Island, and one of the most experience of duano men in the dountry as our General Agent, we are satisfied we can beat them in quality and price. We challenge them to meet us in the laboratory or on the plantation; and until they can compete with us successfully in these tests, their paper attacks will not hurt the best natural Guano (except Peruvian) yet offered to the public.

They write about "their standard!" Will they publish it? Why did they publish a standard last year, and withdraw it? We have taken proper steps in the Courts as a Fertilizer especially adapted to the wants of those who appreciate the neces sity of making their land produce the highest possible yield.

WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE is no new or untried manure. It has been before the public for upwards of ten years, during which time it has been steadily growing in reputation, until it is now universally recognized as one of the most uniformly reliable concentrated fertilizers in the market. It is manufactured from the best and purest raw materials, every one of which is subjected to chemical analysis before being used. The purity of the fertilizer is thus assured. In addition to this, every step of its manufacture is conducted under the strictost chemical supervision, so that farmers are thus guarded at every point from any danger of using an inferior article. On

Cotton. Corn and Tobacco

WHANN'S PHOSPHATE has produced the most grafifying results, in many instance for exceeding the most sanguine hopes of those who have used it.

We offer this renowned fertilizer for the fouring season, assuring our friends that the same high standard which has always characterized it shall be rigidly maintained.

Read the following opinions of some who have used WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE: Messis. Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas:
Gentlemen:—The ton of Whann's Raw Hone Super-Phosphate purchased of you last Spring made the best crop of cotton I eyer made, and I consider it decidedly the best fertilizer I ever used, I want it again next sesson.

Yours truly,

S. W. MITCHELLA Louisburg, N. C., Nov. 9, 1874.

Meera, Ring, White & Shaw:
Gentlemen:—In reply to your inquiry as to my opinion of Whann's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate, I unhesitatingly say that by comparison with other fertilizers during the last three years, I am satisfied that Whann's has turned out better crops for me than any other, and I expect to continue to use it.

Yours truly,
JOHN E. THOMAS. Oxford, N. C., Dec. 15, 1874.

Messrs, Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas, Raleigh, N. C.:

Dear Sirs:—At the Orphan Asylum in Oxford, a very decided success has attended every application of Whann's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate. The land was poor, and the season dry, but the crops surpassed our expectations. Such a fertilizer will work its own way, because those who have used it once will want it again.

J. H. MILLS, Supt.

Louisburg, N. C., November 7, 1874. Messrs. King, White & Shaw:

I have used Whann's Raw Hone Super Phosphate for the past four years, and am so well pleased with its result on my cotton crop that I have no wish to buy any other Fertilizer.

ENCOURAGE HOME INDUSTRY. Why will our Merchants and others buy their Cigars from the North Instead of putrouizing their own Factories at home. Why will they be imposed uron by those Nonads of Northern firms, the Drummers, Whose expenses and extravaganess they (our Merchants) have to pay out of the cabbage leaves, plans, soaks, spurious mixed Havanas, and infected subbish, that they buy from them.

mixed Havanas, and infected rubbles, that they buy from them.

By purchasing their Cigars from the North, our Merchants enried a class, that neither care for our community, and leave none of the money spent with them here, whilst the Cigar Manufacturers of Releigh languish for reason of patronage from the very one's that eight to take a pelein building up home Manufacturers in their midst. There's no kind or style of Cigar that the Northern, Sactories make, that our Cigar Manufactorers cannot make also, and as for prices, we can give better satisfaction both in quality and cheapness, than the whole simy of Commercial Agents that thefst Raleigh in the interests of Northern Houses.

By encouraging Home Manufactures, our Merchants will see our Cigar Fuciories (lastead of being mere buries ques of Factories of modest appearance) large in size, flourishing in plenty of work, with twenty or thirty Cigar makers constantly making up stock for home consumption. Those men that our Manufacturers would employ would spend from three to four hundred dollars weekly, thereby benefitting the community at large and keeping the money where it ought to be at home. The Merchants of Charlotte buy exclusively from their two Cigar Manufacturers, and shall Raleigh be antagonistic to Charlotte. I.EOPOLD BROS,

Financial Matters in New York-almost a Black Friday-Daniel Drew's Maneavering. NEW YORK, March 31.—The Times financial says the cause of the violent fluctuations of stock yesterday is at-tributable to Daniel Drew's wild operations in "calls," "straddles" and "puts." Drew, it appears, failed to put in an appearance, when a decline in gold made his customers anxious to see him. The legion of enquirers at Drew's usual places of resort were blandly told that Drew was sick. Drew's absence from the street caused a decline in gold and an advance of exchange. The effect on the street when the fact became known, was to depress prices and generally unsettle values, but as soon as it was understood that any permanent default on his part would place a number of speculators operating on his "calls" short of stocks, the feeling changed, and prices began to advance just as the stock exchange was closed for the The effect in the gold room was even more decided than in the stock exchange, and the price declined from 1.16% to 1.14%, and millions of dollars worth of long gold were sold out. The President Receives a Telegram from Texas-Robbers.

WASHINGTON, March 31.-The following telegram was received here to-day from the Governor of Texas: AUSTIN, TEXAS, March 30. His Excellency, U, S. Grant, President U. S. : SIR-The depredations of organ-ized bands of robbers from the Re-public of Mexico have of late increased in frequency and atrocity to an extent which threatens the depopulation of the lower Rio Grande country. The alarm in the country between the Nueces and Rio Grande consequent upon these raids, in which our people are ruthlessly murdered and their property forcibly taken by these foreign desperadoes, is wide spread, and unless relieved by some assurance of protection must result in a general break up of the settlements. On the 26th of this month a large party of these robbers penetrated the interior as far as within 18 miles of Corpus Christi, robbing stores and ranches and murdering and capturing citizens and capturing and destroying U.S. mails. I appeal to your Excellency for protection for the people of that country against these in vasions of outlaws from Mexico, since they have been of almost weekly occurrences for several months past, and are increasing in force and boldness. The citizens of that country have been compelled, for the most part, to move to the towns for protection, and no security exists outside of these corporations for life or property, and the people in the towns even hold themselves in constant readiness for defence. I trust that your Excellency will deem it proper to give security to the people on the Rio Grande border, in view of the assurance I now give you that an extreme necessity exists for it.

Very respectfully, RICHARD COKE, Governor of Texas.

The Secretary of War sent the following answer: WASHINGTON, March 31st.

To the Governor of Texas: The President being absent, your telegram has been sent to me. Orders will be given to the military authorities to take immediate steps towards the protection of the people of Texas on the Mexican frontier. WM. W. BELKNAP,

Secretary of War A telegram was received at the War Department to-day from the Commandant of the Troops at Key West, Florida, announcing that two eases of yellow fever existed in that place, and that the troops had been moved to another locality beyond the reach of the disease.

The Tobacco Question.

We published Saturday, in our telegraphic department, a dispatch from Washington presenting a long and labored letter from Mr. Douglas, commissioner of internal revenue, attempting to justify his ruling that the revenue law, signed by the Presi-dent after breakfast of the 3d day of March last, took effect immediately after 12 o'clock on the night of 2d instant. The commissioner fortifies his position by citations from deci-sions of the Supreme Court, which may or may not be applicable; but he might pile Pelion upon Ossa of such decisions without convincing any man possessing a thimble full of brains that a law takes effect twelve hours before it becomes a law.

We have had occasion heretofore to discuss at least one of Mr. Douglas' rulings about tobacco, and the opinion we then formed is now confirmed, that he is inimical to the great tobacco interest. He never gives the manufacturers the benefit of the strongest doubt in an equivocal law, but seems to take delight in harry-ing them with decisions adverse to their interests. We will wager a plug of Frazier's best that if the commissioner should ever be convicted of an offence punishable with im-prisonment, and that on the day after conviction a new law should take effect substituting hanging for such imprisonment, he or his counsel, would most vigorously protestagainst any expost facto interpretation of the law that would consign him to the gallows.—Richmond Whig.

A bill has been made the special order in the State Senate of Tennessee which contains the following section: "That batchelorism is here-by declared a privilege, and every male inhabitant of this State over twenty years of age, being of sound mind and enjoying good bodily halth, remaining unmarried after the first day of May, 1875, shall pay a fine of ten dollars annually."

A widow was weeping bitterly at the loss of her husband, and the par-son tried to console her. "No, no," said she; "let me have my cry out and then I shan't care anything more about it."

GUANAHANI GUANO COMPANY,

PETERSBURG, VA.

In offering this FERTULIZER to the Agricultural Community a Second Season we do so with the utmost confidence, feeling satisfied that the high opinion, we formed, and expressed last season based on its Chemical Constituents, have been most satisfactorily borne out by the test, by which all Fertilizers must be judged, that of the Plantation.

Last season, owing to the lateness at which we commenced importing, we were forced to put our Guano on the market at once, but now having continued our importations during the summer and fail, and having large and well ventilated Warehouses in the city of Petersburg and at City Point, we are enabled to put our Guano on the market, in a condition as to dryness and freedom from lumps, equal to any Manufactured Fertilizer.

in a condition as to dryness and freedom from numps, equal to any analysis.

We solicit a careful perusal of our Circular containing the certificates sent us, and which can be had on application at this OF FICE, or from any of our AGENTS. Having nothing to conceal, we made no innovation on established usage, by publishing those letters received unfavorable to our Ginano, but careful inquiry in many cases proves that the cause of its falling was not owing to any fault in the Guno, but to those far beyond our control. We have frequently heard the same complaints of its kindred Fertilezer, Peruvion Guano, but the concurrent testimony of well known Farmers and Planters from Maryland to the extreme Western counties of North Caralina, justify us in claiming place for our Fertilizer Superior to many, and second to NONE.

We confidently expect the continued patronage of the Agricultural Community and no exertion will be spared on our part to make
